

Community Coffee Hour

Family Violence Project's Community Coffee Hour is a place where community members affected by or concerned about domestic abuse can come together to have a cup of coffee or a snack, mingle, and learn more about Family Violence Project services, as well as other community resources and local events. This is an open-house style gathering, not a confidential support group so pre-registration is not required. Guests will be asked to sign an attendance sheet upon arrival.

Who: Are you a survivor who is looking to connect with others and learn about local resources and events? Stop in and say hello! Are you a community partner who is interested in learning more about Family Violence Project services, or would like to leave some information about your own services? You're welcome to stop by as well!

When: Community Coffee Hour will be held on the third Thursday of each month from 1:00pm to 2:00pm. This is an informal, open-house style meeting so you can come for the whole time to meet people and chat, or just stop in for a few minutes to grab some coffee and pamphlets.

Where: This monthly event will be held at Family Violence Project's administrative office located at 83 Western Avenue on the corner of Drew Street in Augusta. There is a small parking lot in front of the building facing Drew Street, and a larger parking lot behind the building.

If you need shelter, support group, safety planning, advocacy, or other services, please call our confidential 24-hour helpline at 1-877-890-7788 to speak with an advocate.
